

Sprint 3 Report, SlugPings, Team: The Good Squad, March 4, 2018

Actions to stop doing:

We should also try to implement something not directly related to the release plan. We should stop trying to push everything to the last minute.

Actions to start doing:

We should try to communicate on issues we cannot figure out on our own. We should start trying to pace ourselves for the last spring.

Actions to keep doing:

We should continue working on communicating with each other when we are unsure of things. We should continue working at the current pace as that is what is best for the team at the moment.
